EXPERIENCE FIRSTHAND THE WONDERS OF CONSERVATION.

WALKS are designed for most abilities. They are usually flat but may involve crossing rough, uneven ground.

HIKES typically cover more ground than Walks and often include elevation gain. They may be on or off trail and may include crossing rough, uneven ground.

SETON WATCHES led by naturalist Neal Maine are opportunities to sit quietly and observe the natural world. Minimal walking involved.

STEWARDSHIP is hands-on habitat work. In the summer, that usually means pulling or cutting weeds.

Except CoastWalk Oregon, all events are free. Space is limited at some events, and preregistration is required. Registration for Walks, Hikes, and Seton Watches opens one month before the event. Find expert field guides' bios and other details at NCLTrust.org/on-the-land-summer-outings.
